Editorial

Healthcare and accounting

As he notes in his Guest Editorial in this issue (Mensah, 2000), Professor Yaw M. Mensah was Special Associate Editor for this special theme issue. In his guest editorial Mensah (2000) suggests that there is need for further research relating to healthcare and accounting (see Mensah, 2000; also see Mensah, 1996). We agree with his comment. Accordingly, researchers are encouraged to submit manuscripts in that general area for editorial consideration at the Journal of Accounting and Public Policy.
